Legion Celebrates Tenth Birthday

The local branch celebrated the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Canadian Legion with a card party and dance at the Odd Fellows Hall on Monday evening. There was a large attendance of members and their ladies, and a number of guests were also present.

During the supper interval Mr. W. A. Austin, president of the local branch, gave a general outline of the history of the Canadian Legion, which was organized as a branch of the British Empire Service League. The League, which was formed by the late Field Marshal Earl Haig, had developed into the largest organization within the Empire and had branches in every Dominion and Colony. The Canadian branch in 1925 had 400 smaller branches and had increased until now there were 1,427 branches and auxiliaries in Canada, with a membership of 160,000. During the past five years, and in spite of the depression, the membership had increased at the rate of approximately 10,000 a year.

Mr. E. Craig gave a history of the Didsbury Branch, which was organized five years ago. He gave credit to H. W. Morgan as having taken the leading part in organizing the branch, and paid tribute to J. H. Lowrie, who was president the first three years, for his splendid work. He pointed to the work the Legion had been able to accomplish during its existence, and thanked the public for the generous support they had always given them. He said that the membership did not yet include 100 per cent of the returned men in the district, and invited all ex-servicemen to join with them.

Mayor Chambers spoke a few words of greeting and complimented the Legion upon the excellent calibre of its membership.

Prizewinners at the whist drive were Mrs. Fleury and Mr. Farrant.

Quebec Govt. Wins By Narrow Margin

Louis Alexandre Taschereau still sits in the premier's chair of Quebec but with less ease than during his 15 years of occupancy. The Liberal party after 38 years of office was given a new lease on life in the recent election, maintaining itself in power by the slim margin of six seats. Liberals were returned in 47 out of the province's 90 constituencies. One Independent Liberal was elected, while the joint Conservative-Action Libérale Nationale opposition captured 42 seats between them.

Mr. Smith, who is one of the leading authorities on agriculture in the West, will speak on crop rotation; weed control; corn; alfalfa; sweet clover; hogs; cows, and silos. His lecture will be illustrated by moving pictures and lecture charts.

He has a worthwhile message for the farmers of the district and those who attend will find his lecture helpful. The lecture is free and everybody is welcome.

Mr. Henry Goehring, who is sponsoring the lecture, is to be complimented on bringing a speaker of Mr. Smith's ability to lecture to the farmers of this district.

Rinks Limited Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Rinks Limited was held at Fisher & Edwards' office last Friday evening, with Mr. H. W. Chambers in the chair.

The financial report was read and adopted. All the officers were re-elected: H. W. Chambers as president and Bert Fisher as secretary.

It was decided to again rent the curling rink to the Curling Club at a rental of $60.00. The lease of the skating rink to the town was also renewed.

Alberta Will Have Strong Delegation

When the dominion-provincial conference opens at Ottawa on December 2 this province will be represented by Premier Wm. Aberhart, Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, Hon. John W. Hugill, K.C., attorney-general, and James C. Thompson, provincial auditor. R. J. Magor, Montreal actuary, under 6 months' engagement to the province, will be in the east, and available for consultation purposes.

Other provinces are taking several cabinet ministers, so that, in its entirety, the conference will reach large proportions.

To Settle An Issue

There are few people in Western Canada, and in the east as well for that matter, who will not follow with lively interest the proceedings before the Royal Commission appointed by the Saskatchewan Government to inquire into all the circumstances surrounding the "On to Ottawa" trek of relief camp strikers, which started out from Vancouver this summer and culminated in the Dominion Day rioting in Regina, in which a city police detective lost his life and scores were injured.

The inquiry, which is to be held in Regina may be regarded as an event of major importance to the whole country, in view of the fact that charges have been made public that the purpose and intent of the movement was to upset the constituted government of Canada and to impose on the country a government by unlawful means.

This has been denied by the strikers' leaders, who have insistently declared that their purpose was peaceful and inspired only with the desire to draw their grievances to the attention of the Federal government and the people in the hope that by this means these grievances would be remedied.

Which is correct, the charge or the denial, the people at large have no means of knowing at the present time, but it is sincerely to be hoped that sufficient evidence will be brought before the Commission to settle the question definitely one way or the other.

The charge, of course, is a serious one, since, if true, it involves a serious threat to the democratic form of government which has been bequeathed to the people of Canada and has been carefully fostered and cherished by them since Confederation. The whole trend of the history of the country since that date has been to bulwark and strengthen that form of government which decrees that at periodic intervals the people of the country shall decide by their ballots at the polls what administrative policies they desire.

On the other hand, if there is no truth in the charge, the public is entitled to know it. During their advance through the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan as far as Regina, the young men making their way towards Ottawa gained a measure of sympathy and support from a section of the public.

Those who assisted the lads on their trip to the capital in the belief that it was a peaceful delegation to supplicate the government to terminate certain grievances, whether those grievances were real or fancied, will want to know whether their confidence was misplaced or not.

Those young men who joined the movement in a spirit of youthful adventure as the strikers progressed through the western provinces, as is alleged many of them did on the assumption that it was a peaceful and law-abiding pilgrimage, will also want to know whether they were bound on an innocent quest or were unwitting and pliable tools in the hands of a menacing leadership, as has also been alleged.

These are matters which should be cleared up, definitely and finally for the sake of the peace of mind of the public generally and for the information of participants in the march and of those who sympathized with them and aided them.

There is only one way, however, for these question to be definitely determined and that is by all those who have specific information on the movement and its motives to come forward and offer their testimony without fear or favor. Such information, no matter what it may be, provided it is reliable, will, it is safe to say, be welcomed by the Commission and the public.

It must be borne in mind that the Commission is purely a fact-finding body. It is not charged with the duty of drawing conclusions from the evidence adduced, or of making recommendations as a result of the information it receives.

The Commission's duties are confined to bringing out whatever facts they and their counsel may be able to secure and, while, no doubt, every effort will be made to gain as much information as possible, the value of the Commission's work to the public will be limited to the extent that such information is made available.

If those who have important information on the subject matter of the inquiry, neglect to bring it to the Commission's attention, to that extent the investigation will necessarily fail to fulfill its full purpose and to that degree the inquiry will be disappointing.

No matter how economically handled a Royal Commission inquiry is bound to involve considerable expenditure and it is to be hoped that those who have information of value will submit it and help the public to secure a good return for the expense entailed.

Prominent Writer Dies

Frank Yeigh Was Authority On Canadian Affairs

Widely known as a lecturer, writer and authority on Canadian affairs, Frank Yeigh, 75, died in Toronto after a brief illness.

He was born in Burford, Ont., and was educated at the public school there. After a period of secretarial and publishing training in Chicago he came here in the late 70's and became secretary to Hon. A. S. Hardy, first provincial secretary and later Ontario premier.

Later he became editor of the weekly newspaper, Canadian Advance. He married Kate Westlake, author of "A Specimen Spinster," in 1892. She died in 1906.

In 1908 he married Annie Louise Laird, daughter of Rev. Robert Laird, of Kingston. He travelled through the British Isles and Europe in succeeding years and in 1920 became Canadian representative of the Save the Children Fund, an international organization sponsored by the League of Nations aimed at relieving distress among women and children.

Requests For Dionne Bowls

Premiums Have Been Given To People All Across Canada

That the Dionne quintuplets are very dear to the hearts of the people of Canada is amply demonstrated in the tremendous demands for the "Quint" souvenir bowls being given away as premiums in connection with Quaker Oats. Although the premium offer was first made only a comparatively short time ago, already literally thousands upon thousands of requests for the bowls have been received from families all over the Dominion. Requests for premiums, according to The Quaker Oats Company, come from people in every walk of life, high and low, and from both men and women, as well as children.

The premium offer of chromium bowls bearing a reproduction of the heads of the five famous babies in intaglio on the bottom, and their names carved around the rim, is being made to mark the fact that Quaker Oats was chosen by the best food experts in the country as the breakfast cereal for the children. The Dionne Quintuplets have been eating Quaker Oats regularly since their very earliest months.

Quaker Oats was chosen because of its remarkable richness in Vitamin B. Food editors of leading publications are constantly printing articles stressing the importance of this vitamin. They also recommend oatmeal because of its abundance of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, and energy-making carbohydrates. So the "Quints" get bowls of Quaker Oats.

Regular Aeroplane Service Across the Atlantic Appears To Be Nearing Realization

Prediction by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell shortly after the Wright brothers made their memorable first heavier-than-air machine flight at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, that a regular aeroplane service across the Atlantic would be operated during the present generation appears to be nearing realization.

And a more important part of the prophecy, as far as Cape Breton is concerned, is that plans for the ocean service may call for a landing field at Sydney.

It is believed that Sydney is greatly favored as the terminus on the Atlantic seaboard.

Word from Montreal is to the effect that work is being rushed across Canada for completion of the trans-continental airway so that European passengers and mail would be less than three and a half days away from the St. Lawrence city next year and less than five days from Vancouver.

Single unemployed men are constructing 114 landing fields across the Dominion at approximately 25-mile distances as part of a gigantic unemployment relief program. Most of these fields are nearly completed now.

Should the transatlantic service be developed, it is believed Montreal would be the main eastern terminal, with aeroplanes connecting there for the western routes. Maritime stops would probably be at Halifax, Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John.

The Canadian airway will go from Montreal to Elmsdale by way of Ottawa. Elmsdale, where a radio beacon is being operated will be the junction point for aeroplanes from Toronto and southern Ontario. Radio beacons are also planned for points near Cobalt, Kapuskasing, and Sioux Lookout, all in northern Ontario. Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Piaspot and Lethbridge will have beacons, and a feeder line will connect with the Arctic air mail routes from Lethbridge.

Approximately 12,000 men have been employed on the airway construction plan. They are housed in camps and receive regulation army rations.

Sydney's city council appointed Mayor S. E. Muggah and City Solicitor Finlay MacDonald as a committee to gather all available data relative to a transatlantic base being established here. One of the chief advantages Sydney has to offer is that it is the only place on the Atlantic coast with sufficient landing space that is relatively free from fog the year round.

Comical Competition

Whiskerino Derby And $100 Prize Helps To Promote Beards

After 20 days of hair-raising competition, Andrew Duncan was chosen winner of Drumheller's "whiskerino" Derby and a $100 prize. His fertile face produced the best yield in a field of 27. David Jones was second—loser by a close shave.

The contest, run by the Drumheller Miners Hockey Club, brought out hirsute hopefuls with everything from neat Van Dyke effects to uncontrolled coverings bidding for victory on quantity.

Disappointment of entrants who achieved only a dirty face effect was relieved by consolation prizes.

Bird Makes A Get Away

It's not a fish story that Dr. W. Commell, of Stratford, Ont., tells about the one that got away—it's a bird story. He had been shooting pheasants, he said, and had been carrying two in a bag for about two hours when he heard a whirr—one made hasty exit from the bag and flew away.

The year 1931 was an exceptionally healthy one in the United States and Canada, according to life insurance records, which show the lowest death rate on record for that year.

"Jack," said the plumber's wife as he was leaving home on a hurry call, "bring me a jar of cold cream from the drug store when you come back for the tools you're forgetting."

Storing Farm Machinery

Necessary To Protect Machinery From Ravages Of The Weather

Proper care should be exercised at all times to protect the large investment in farm machinery from rapid deterioration. Heat, moisture, wind, frost and direct sunlight are the most destructive elements encountered by farm equipment.

Storage means protection against these deteriorating effects during the inactive life of the machines and has been found by the Dominion Experimental Station at Swift Current, to be the greatest single factor in prolonging the life of farm machinery.

The most active period of deterioration is during the season of machine use. It is important, however, to protect machinery the year around from the effects of weather. Generous use of paint on all wood and metal parts, wherever the original has worn thin, and the removal to a dry shed of all slats, canvasses, knives, ploughshares, cultivator teeth, etc., immediately the machine is out of use, will help prolong the useful life of the implement.

Pack all bearings with the correct grade of lubricant. Cover all exposed metal parts worn bright from use with old crankcase or transmission oil before putting the machine aside even for a few days. This will keep out all dirt and moisture from the bearings and off the wearing surfaces, thus preventing excessive wear due to rust.

Clean all seed from drill boxes, make sure that all dirt is removed from plough or one-way disk bottoms and that they are well greased before leaving. All straw, grain or weeds should be thoroughly cleaned from binders, combines, separators, cultivators, disks, etc., before greasing and painting for storage.

Bright sunlight and moisture cause exposed wooden parts to warp and crack; paint applied early will prevent this destruction. Metal parts exposed will rust and wear; grease or paint will save these surfaces.

Inside storage of grain boxes, wooden drills, wagon running gears, and wooden separators is desirable, but not essential. Outside storage of machinery has been found highly successful at the above station when proper care has been exercised to protect against animals and weather by good fences, the use of paint and proper lubricants.

Western Apples Win Prizes

Canadians Win Highest Possible Award At English Fruit Show

The department of trade and commerce recently announced it had received a cable advice a British Columbia apple grower had won the highest possible award at the Cardiff, Wales, Imperial Fruit Show.

The grower, James Lowe of Oyama, B.C., submitted an exhibit of Canadian Delicious apples which was judged the champion dessert apple of the British Empire. Competition at the show was said to have been the keenest ever known.

The cable said an exhibit of Canadian Jonathan apples received high commendation and that Nova Scotia barrelled apples in the Canadian championship class were of the highest quality and appearance seen on the British market.

Seventy Canadian exhibits were entered in the show.

Wild Barley

Skunk-tail grass, or wild barley, is a native perennial occurring from Lake Superior westward, particularly in alkaline soil where better grasses cannot thrive. It is found occasionally in Eastern Canada. This grass is a serious enemy to western stockmen, being a source of injury to horses, cattle, and sheep through the barbed seeds and awns penetrating the soft tissue of the animals' mouths and causing irritation and inflamed ulcers.

Motorists who drive at 60 miles an hour should also be able to think at 60 miles an hour. Which few of them can.

Seed Wheat

Advice Concerning Use Of Rusted Wheat For Seeding Purposes

On account of the wheat rust epidemic in the prairie provinces many farmers will be obliged to use wheat as seed which has been more or less injured by this disease. Many badly rusted samples have already been tested in the laboratories of the Seed Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary. Germination tests show that even very poor, shrunken kernels are capable of producing seedlings, but these seedlings are weak and spindly. It should be remembered that germination conditions in the laboratory are practically ideal, and that very many of the weak seedlings will not survive in the field particularly if soil moisture and temperature conditions are not favourable at the time of seeding.

Owing to the size of the rusted kernels there are very many more per bushel than in normal plump wheat. This means that in spite of injury rusted seed will give a good stand. However, the seedlings will be weak and subject to the attacks of root rots and similar diseases. Badly shrivelled seed should not be treated with formalin for the control of smuts; instead copper carbonate or one of the dusting materials recommended should be used.

Rusted cereals should be well cleaned so that the heavier kernels are used for seeding.

Average farm values per head of sheep, swine and poultry in 1934 increased over those of 1933, cattle alone showing slightly lower values. Milch cows decreased in value from $31 to $29 per head, and other cattle remained unchanged at $17. Sheep increased from $4 to $4.18; swine from $8.89 to $9.86; and poultry from 56 cents to 59 cents per head.

Friendship Chain Letters

Rural Districts Have New Way Of Gathering Patches For Quilts

Quilting bees have been popular during the depression days of Saskatchewan—housewives saved all the pieces of cloth available and made quilts instead of buying them at the stores. Clubs and societies held their bees and made dozens of quilts for institutions such as the orphanages, Indian schools, etc.

Now, however, there will be added zest in the popular pastime for it has come under the eye of some shrewd print manufacturers, say women who have received what is the last word in chain letters. Yes, the chain letter has gone right into quilting bee and it is captioned "The World's Friendship Quilt."

The letter runs on the same principle as all former chain letters, but there is no money to be sent. The receiver of the letter is asked to carry on the chain until her name appears at the top of the list, and at that time she will have 250 six-inch squares of print, that can be made into "beautiful and elaborate quilts."

Several organizations have already taken a lively interest in the new fad, and throughout the rural districts of the province, women are getting their letters daily.—Regina Leader-Post.

The lowly porcupine belongs to one of the first families of North America. A fossilized lower jaw found in the Snake River valley of Idaho has determined its antiquity at between 2,000,000 and 10,000,000 years.

A slightly lower weight per bushel and slightly higher protein content than last year's corresponding grades were indicated in the milling and baking characteristics of the western Canada 1935 wheat crop in a report issued by the research laboratory of the board of grain commissioners.

Considering the general baking quality, said the report prepared by Dr. F. W. Geddes, chemist in charge, the No. 1 Hard to No. 3 Northern inclusive this year were not quite equal to the 1934 crop. In the lower grades, the wheat was either equal or superior. The report said this showed the difference in baking quality between the high and low grades was not as widespread as usual.

The rusted grades, Nos. 4, 5 and 6 special, possessed excellent baking strength although they produced comparatively low yields of flour which had a pronounced yellow color. The new Garnet grades, No. 1 and No. 2 C.W., were of high test weight and flour yielding capacity. Like the special grades, however, the flour was distinctly yellow.

Operating On Building

Cut Five Feet From Middle Then Join And Resew

Instead of slicing five feet off the Olive Street frontage of the Commercial Exchange at the corner of Eighth Street, Los Angeles, Calif., to allow for the widening of the street, engineers have decided to cut a strip across the middle of the building and then roll the skyscraper back from the original building line in Olive Street.

The building is thirteen stories and the highest structure ever put on rollers, according to George B. Kress, of the Kress Housing Moving Company, which is doing the job. He estimates that he will have to slide more than 5,000 tons of steel, brick and cement—thirteen tiers of offices and stores—five feet without disturbing street traffic or the tenantry of the building. It is perhaps one of the most delicate engineering jobs which has been undertaken in this country in many years.

When the city authorities of Los Angeles sent out orders that Olive Street was to be widened the owners of the Commercial Exchange called in engineers and together went into the question of what should be done. They were told that the simplest solution to the problem would be to slice the five feet off the Olive Street front of the thirteen-story structure and then construct a new facade, but that would cost considerable money. It would be cheaper, it was pointed out, although more troublesome, to gouge five feet out of the centre of the building and roll the structure back to the rear half of the structure. This plan was accepted and for seventy-seven days builders have been at work cutting away five feet to provide more room for traffic on Olive Street, the result of progress.

When the cut has been made and the front section shoved back to meet the rear section, the two parts will be "sewed" together. When it is complete the structure will show no signs of the major operation which it has been through.

Cross-Bred Wool

The wools of prime interest in international trade are merino and cross-bred. Canada, New Zealand, the British Isles, Irish Free State, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, and Brazil (which also grows merino) and Spain (which also produces carpet wool) are producers of cross-bred wool. Merino is the prevalent type of wool of Australia, Union of South Africa, and the United States. Carpet wool is turned out by Soviet Russia, China, India, French Africa, Turkey, Iran, Syria, Peru, Bolivia, Mexico, and Ecuador.

The present consumption of beef in Canada per head of population is estimated at 68.66 pounds (56.09 in 1933); pork, 66.36 pounds (74.58 in 1933); mutton and lamb, 6.28 pounds (6.32 in 1933); poultry, 9.9 pounds; butter, 30.92 pounds; cheese 3.64 pounds; eggs, 22.31 dozen per capita.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

LET'S GO HUNTING

It's the wise hunter who keeps his camera loaded and ready to snap the real story-telling pictures such as this one.

Don't these cool, crisp fall mornings sort of give you the hunting fever? In spite of all the pleasure you had during the good old summer time you probably look upon the fall hunting season as one of the highlights of the year, and as you sit enjoying a good evening smoke, isn't it a lot of pleasure to talk over the happenings of the day?

There should be more to a hunting trip, however, than tracking your game, or anticipating that tense moment when the antlers of a fine young buck make their appearance through the trees; or he carelessly makes a wild dash into the clearing and you put up a valiant fight against a severe attack of "buck fever."

The appearance of your game and the exciting moment when you quickly raise your gun to your shoulder and pull the trigger, is one of the thrilling adventures of a hunting trip.

There are, however, many moments of relaxation and leisure, too.

It is then that you should do a different kind of shooting. "Shooting" with a camera should not be overlooked for it is with snapshots that you can make a picture record of your trip and enjoy your expedition over and over for years to come.

Your snapshots can picture your trip from the time you and your hunting pals load your duffel bags, guns, blankets and other equipment until your return with—we hope—your trophies.

Space will not permit enumerating all the picture possibilities on such trips. Picture taking opportunities, however, seem to have the habit of appearing at the most unexpected moments so it's the wise hunter who keeps his camera loaded and ready for action.

If you have never before taken snapshots under overcast fall skies it is important to remember that it will be necessary to give a longer exposure than ordinarily made under summer's bright sunshine.

But your snapshotting should not be confined to outdoor pictures for it is at night in the cabin or lodge you can take pictures of your party seated around the open fireplace swapping yarns and reviewing experiences in this and former hunting expeditions.

You will find that Photoflash bulbs will serve your purpose admirably. A Photoflash bulb is similar in appearance to a common electric light bulb and can be screwed into a special, but inexpensive holder, resembling an ordinary hand flash-light tube. This can be purchased at almost any store selling photographic supplies. The flash is set off by pressing the flash button and it gives an intense light without any noise or smoke.

After placing your camera on a tripod or some solid support look into the finder and be sure you can see all who are to be included in the picture. Set the diaphragm at f.8 or U. S. 4, open the shutter after having been set for "time" and then flash the bulb. Be sure to close the shutter immediately after the flash.

It is not necessary to have the room in total darkness when the flash is made but be sure that a bright light is not shining directly into the lens of the camera.

Make your camera an important part of your hunting equipment and on your return have a picture story to show to your friends.

Frozen Grain Proves Very Poor Seed Risk

As most of the grain grown in Northern Alberta this year was frozen there will be a great shortage of seed grain next spring, and in some districts frozen grain will be pressed into service as seed.

According to observations made at the Dominion Experimental Station at Lacombe, although frozen grain may show good germination, the seedlings will not be as vigorous as those from normal, plump kernels, and the resulting stand will be irregular and the growth weak. The reason for this is that the frozen kernel does not contain sufficient nourishment to properly develop the seedling to the point where its root system will be able to provide the plant with an adequate supply of plant food to get it off to a good start; hence, one of the many risks in using frozen seed is that the resulting crop, because of its lateness, is quite likely to be caught by an early frost.

As the use of frozen seed will probably mean a sacrifice in both yield and quality in the crop produced, the farmer would be well advised to make sure of a supply of good seed for next spring, even if it is necessary to purchase seed at a considerable premium over the price he is able to secure for his frozen grain.

The Experimental Station recommends that anyone having grain that he believes would make good seed should forward a one-pound sample to the Dominion Seed Branch at Calgary for seed grade and germination test to establish its value as seed. If results of the test are satisfactory a good market for this seed is assured.—JSC.

Cattle From Alberta Win.

Capturing two firsts, a second, third and fourth, as well as several minor awards, the Alberta Holstein breeders made a splendid showing in the first judging events in this breed at the Toronto Royal Fair last Thursday morning, when the seven Holstein bull classes were judged.

Hays & Co., Calgary, who have, with the C.P.R. Farm at Strathmore, been heavy winners in the past few years, scored the first when their "Dekol Wayne" won the senior yearling bull class in strong company, and the C.P.R. farm brought out the winner in the two-year-old bull class with "Strathmore Senator DeWinton." This herd also had the second prize senior bull-calf, in a class of eight, on "Strathmore Koba Laird."

In this same class Hays & Co. were fifth on "Hays' Taxpayer." "Zoko Dekol" was also third in the junior yearling class, and the C.P.R. farm fourth for three-year-old bull on "Strathmore McKinley Emperor." Top in this class was an Alberta bred bull now owned by Freil & Sons, Thamesford, Ontario. C.P.R. farm was also placed in the junior calf class, standing eighth in a class of eighteen with "Strathmore Koba King Morag."

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

Mountain View Notes

The usual monthly meeting of the Mountain View W.I. took place at the home of Mrs. Bennie St. Claire. The meeting took the usual form of procedure and during the business session it was decided that the institute hold a dance in Community Hall on December 6th at which the quilt will be raffled. Tickets are now available at 10 cents each or three for 25 cents. The substantial sum of $12.60 was raised at the tea given in town at the home of Mrs. H. Pearson. Members will please note that the next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Max Wood on December 4th instead of the usual third Thursday. All members are requested to attend also to bring a small article to be auctioned off at the sale to be held that day. The last auction sale held was most successful so members endeavor to make this a similar success at the Annual meeting on Dec. 4th.

The whooping cough epidemic has somewhat abated in the Mona school district. The progress of this school has been seriously retarded owing to the enforced absence of several pupils in all grades.

RUGBY NOTES

A very jolly party was held by W.I. members at the hospitable home of Mrs. A. Wahl, last Thursday afternoon, when the winning team in the contest run this summer, was entertained by the losing side, vocal solos were given by Mrs. McFarlane, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Hogg and Miss Bessie Evans. Readings by Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Parker and the secretary. Little Jean Krebs delighted her audience with a short recitation and Miss H. Wahl entertained us on the guitar. With plenty of talk our afternoon sped away all too quickly, and after a very dainty tea was served we most regretfully said good-bye to our genial hostess and started for home wishing that these occasions were not so occasional. Members please remember the annual business meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Krebs on Thursday, December 5th, when the butterfly quilt will be drawn for.

Knox United Church Notes.

Debt Adjustment Act

Law Regulating Disposal Of 1935 Saskatchewan Crop

(Hon. T. C. Davis, Attorney-General) "Reports coming to the Saskatchewan government and representations made to the government indicate that there is a very great deal of doubt in the minds of the people of the province with respect to the law regulating the disposal of crops or the proceeds thereof in the province. Furthermore, there seems to be considerable doubt as to the protection which can be afforded to any person applying to the Debt Adjustment Board in this province."

"In view of this condition, the government thought it well to have the following statement prepared and issued:

"First in connection with the Debt Adjustment Act and the protection afforded thereunder, let me again repeat, that there is a representative of this Board to be found at the judicial centre of each judicial district in this province. These representatives have employees working under them, so that the facilities of the Board are available in every part of this province. Applications to the Board do not need to be made in person but a letter seeking information will bring a prompt reply."

"Now with regard to the law respecting disposal of crops, I have been asked to stress certain particular features:

"First: Doubt has arisen as to whether or not a farmer can be obliged to deliver more than one-third share of his crop, under a share of crop lease, mortgage or agreement, irrespective of the terms of the document itself. It is quite clear, that notwithstanding what the lease, mortgage or agreement may state, the farmer is only obliged to deliver one-third share of the crop and he has the privilege, from this one-third share of the crop, to pay one year's taxes, and if he produces the tax receipt, then he is only obliged to hand over the difference between the amount of the taxes and one-third share of the crop. This applies in every case, except where the other party to the lease, agreement or mortgage has purchased or supplied seed or has paid a share of the cost of threshing and binder twine, in which case, the farmer is obliged to deliver one-half the crop, less a year's taxes. Specific provision is made in these cases in the law, giving the Debt Adjustment Board the power to relieve from these agreements and to determine what share of the crop the farmer is obliged to deliver, not exceeding one-half thereof."

"This became the law in 1933, was continued in 1934, and at the last session of the legislature was continued for the year 1935."

"The section of the Act providing for this is to be found in chapter 83 of the 1935 Statutes of Saskatchewan in an Act respecting the Limitation of Civil Rights."

Second: Then I have been asked as to the status of a farmer who has agreed to deliver a share of his crop and who fails to deliver the same. The law in this regard is as follows:

"The farmer who is the mortgagor, tenant or purchaser is by law created a trustee in favour of the holder of the mortgage, the owner of the land or, in other words, the other party to the share of crop lease or agreement, in respect of the share of crop which the farmer is obligated to deliver to the owner or other party to the contract; and the share of the owner, vendor or landlord is by law made the absolute property of such person. If the farmer, being the tenant, mortgagor or purchaser, fails to turn over this share of crop to the party entitled thereto, then, of course, he has committed a criminal breach of trust and has violated the provisions of the criminal code in this regard and is subject to prosecution. Prosecutions in cases like this, however, cannot be undertaken in the same way as an ordinary prosecution because the law specifically provides that no prosecutions can be instituted against anybody in connection with the failure to deliver a share of crop until the consent of the Attorney General has been first had and obtained, which, of course, means that each prospective prosecution, before being instituted, must be reviewed by the Attorney General and approved and authorized by him. The whole of this, of course, is subject to the restrictions under the Limitation of Civil Rights Act of the share of crop to one-third or one-half, as the case may be."

"Third: Then apparently doubt has arisen as to the rights of the individual to exemptions from seizure, and the Exemptions Act provides clearly what the rights of the debtor are. This Act provides for the exemptions to which a person is entitled, as against seizures under Writs of Execution, and the pertinent paragraphs of this Act are paragraphs 3, 4 and 5, which are as follows:

"3. Grain, flour, vegetables or meat, whether prepared for use or on foot or any of them, sufficient when converted into cash to provide food and fuel for heating purposes for the execution debtor and his family until the next ensuing harvest;

Provided that the exemption of one motor vehicle shall apply only to a person actively engaged in farming operations or a person whose sole occupation is that of a physician or surgeon, veterinary surgeon, drayman or common carrier and who resides in the Province of Saskatchewan;

5. The harness necessary for six animals, one wagon, one buggy or democrat, one disc harrow or cultivator, one mower, one breaking plough, one gang plough, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one cream separator, one binder, one set of sleighs and one seed drill."

Increase In Insurance

New Policies Covering $267,000,000 Sold In First Nine Months

Over $267,000,000 of new, ordinary, life insurance exclusive of annuities and pension bonds, was sold in Canada and Newfoundland in the first nine months of this year. Figures given out recently by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, Toronto, based upon returns from nineteen companies having 91 per cent. of the business in force, show improvement in sales for the period, as compared with last year, in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Newfoundland. Ontario leads with $116,961,000, followed by Quebec with $78,093,000.

Last month new business showed perceptible improvement over September, 1934: British Columbia leading with an increase of nearly 41 per cent.; Nova Scotia up 16½ per cent.; Manitoba, 11½ per cent., and Ontario over 7 per cent. Saskatchewan also showed a slight gain.

Young Lad's Steer Wins

Bought Animal Last Year, This Year Is The Champion

Clarence Bradley, 14, of Calhoun, Mo., who last year paid $28 for the Angus steer that became junior grand champion of the American Royal Livestock Show, saw the animal bring $1.37 a pound on the auction block.

Realizing about $1,200 for the 900-pound steer from the purchase price plus prize money, Clarence agreed that being a good stockman paid well. He planned to buy more calves, he said.

The price paid for Clarence's steer, Spirit of Calhoun, was 37 cents higher than last year's top and exceeded the price paid for the senior grand champion, Quality Thickset, an Angus shown by Wayland Hopley, Atlantic, Iowa. The senior champion brought $1.36 a pound.

Something Different in an Afghan

PATTERN 5456

A handsome afghan is a decorative accessory as well as a practical asset to a household. And here's one in four colors that is very simple to make and can be joined up in a variety of ways to give you an entirely different afghan. A great part of its charm is in the stitch used—some of the small squares are worked out in popcorns. The individual block is small, making it especially good pick-up work. Make it and you will have an afghan that will be admired by all who see it.

In pattern 5456 you will find complete instructions and charts for making the afghan shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Ask Your Doctor and Find Out

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

"The same, lady—or one branch of it anyhow; and after last night's rain the brooks and rivers will be full. You'll lose your mind over the road ahead, Nance."

Mark was right. They followed a mountain stream bordered by giant firs and quaking aspens. The mountains were greener here. "More friendly," observed Nance. "More like New England." And after a camp-fire lunch, with the historic Platte rippling peacefully at their feet, Cousin Columbine told some of the old tales which never failed to stir her audience.

"When we get home," Jack prophesied, watching his sister's rapt countenance with some amusement, "Nance will bore all her friends with

Now is the Time For This Help in Preventing Colds

Formula Especially Designed to Aid Nature's Defenses in Nose and Upper Throat, Where Most Colds Start.

PART OF COLDS-CONTROL PLAN

Don't wait for a cold to develop—or get you down. After any unusual exposure, heed that first warning nasal irritation or sneeze—apply a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to avoid many colds.

Va-tro-nol is especially designed to aid and gently stimulate the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh) Va-tro-nol spreads through the nasal passages—reduces swollen membranes—clears clogging mucus—brings comforting relief.

For Fewer and Shorter Colds
Note for your family: Vicks has developed, especially for home use, a practical Plan for Better Control of Colds. This commonsense guide to fewer and shorter colds has been clinically tested by practicing physicians and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of Vicks Plan come in each Va-tro-nol package.

stories of pioneer days in Colorado, and storm the library for literature on the subject."

Father Adam looked up with a smile.

"In that case, I've a little book by a young Englishman which I'll present to you, Nancy. It's worth reading."

"You mean the fellow who landed at Vera Cruz, came up through Mexico and camped for a time at South Park—Bayou Salade, they called it then?" asked Matthew.

His father nodded, and went on: "I wish I could recall something one of our western poets wrote about him. It says:

"Alone through dusk he sat—
Safe in Bayou Salade above the Platte,
Safe from the rumbling dust to Sante Fe,
Cool in the woven spruce that curtained day.
While . . ."

John Adam paused, unable to remember further, and to the surprise of every one, Matthew, dreamy eyes watching the river, continued:

"While good Panchito browsed along the sage
Beyond the picket fire, it was an age
Of picket fires,
Broiled beaver-tail was good
Better than dripping hump-ribs,
—cedar wood
Was sweet in flapping, snapping, crackling bright—
Alone, the boy, Bayou Salade, and Night!"

There followed a moment of appreciative silence as Matt ceased speaking. Then Luke exclaimed with admiration: "Gee! brother how'd you ever remember that?"—while Nancy, realizing that with this honest praise Matthew's self-consciousness had returned again, tactfully drew attention away from him by asking:

"Did any of those old, old Spanish expeditions come this way?"

"I couldn't say, my dear," responded Cousin Columbine. "They may possibly have passed near Pine Ridge, though that, I believe, has not been proved."

And no one dreamed that the girl who sat there, lost to the present in visions of other days, was to discover what looked astonishingly like the missing proof.

CHAPTER XXIII.

It was on the fourth of July when Jack announced at breakfast that with their departure only two days away, the time had come to tackle the sagging gate posts.

"You can't put me off another hour," he insisted (when the old lady said: "Bother those posts, Jack. Don't waste your strength on 'em"), "I'm two pounds heavier than before the blizzard. Cousin Columbine, thanks to these lazy days and Aurora's cooking; and those posts give me the heebie-jeebies. If there were time I'd paint the house for you too."

"You may have that to look forward to when you come again!" she responded, endeavoring to speak briskly. "I hope your father will consider John Adam's offer of a job for the winter, Jack, and send you back to us. As for Nancy—I don't dare think how still the house will seem without her. I felt like a lost soul the days you stayed at Prairie Ranch."

For the visit to "Uncle Tom's" was over—three days that had softened the memory of those cruel, wind-swept plains, leaving instead a vision of flower-dappled prairie.

"If it weren't for this stack of newspapers and letters," Nancy confessed the day she stowed them in her trunk, "that whole ghastly experience would seem a dream."

"A nightmare, I'd call it," corrected Aurora. "Victor Tubbs says I lost ten pounds durin' that blizzard; and as for Miss Columbine, she'll never be the same woman again. It's my opinion that if Eve and John Adam hadn't took their lives in their hands and drove down here to keep her company, she'd have lost her mind."

"And it's my opinion," retorted Miss Columbine, who had come in unobserved, "that you were in a lot more danger of losing yours! Don't talk nonsense, Aurora Tubbs."

Nance laughed at the time, even though something told her that in a measure Aurora was right. One pays toll for hours like those, and Cousin Columbine had not escaped. The old lady was a shade less brisk, less energetic; and Nance hated to think how lonely she would be when left with only Aurora Tubbs for company.

two places at once," she confided in General Grant as she undressed one night, "it would solve the difficulty. What's the use of being a great general, anyway, if you're incapable of advising me, Ulysses S.?"

But if the General saw a solution of the problem, he kept it to himself; and the days passed with Cousin Columbine looking a bit grim when she thought no one noticed, and Matthew Adam losing his appetite to an extent that alarmed his troubled mother. And now tickets and reservations were ordered. Mary Taylor had promised (with Luke's assistance!) to watch over the Aladdin Library; and Nancy was conscious of a new sensation, something she described to herself as "a sinking feeling down inside," each time she caught a glimpse of the unasked question hovering mutely, hopelessly, in Matthew's expressive eyes.

So she was relieved when Jack mentioned the neglected gate posts. The task would occupy both time and thoughts till afternoon, when they were to have a farewell supper at the Adam ranch.

"Don't worry about Jack," she said to Cousin Columbine. "I'll help with the digging. Let's get to work before the sun's too hot."

The old posts, rotted at the bottom, were dislodged with little difficulty.

According to the latest estimates there were 55,700,000 sheep in North America in 1934. Canada had 3,400,000; the United States 52,200,000, and Newfoundland 100,000. In 1933, the number of sheep in the world was estimated at 688,300,000.

Anticipating Death

Right Of Person To Take His Own Life In Certain Circumstances

The right of a person to take his own life, in certain circumstances, would be legalized under a bill prepared by Lord Moynihan, a past president of the Royal College of Surgeons, it was reported in London. Suicide is now a "crime" in English law. Certain members of the clergy are said to regard Lord Moynihan's project favorably.

Under Lord Moynihan's plans, a person afflicted with a painful and incurable disease could request his attending physician for the privilege of "anticipating death" by euthanasia, or painless killing, to be performed under the direction of the physician.

Such a request would have to be accompanied by a sworn statement to the effect that the doomed person's affairs were in order.

Radishes were prime favorites as vegetables in ancient Greece.

Fast Mail Service

Air Mail Service From London To Paris In Record Time

The fastest air-mail service is to be instituted before the end of the month from London to Paris. An air-mail letter posted in London at 1 a.m. is to be delivered in Paris six hours later, considerably shortening the present schedule.

Throughout the British Isles, by means of post office co-operation and readjustments of posting hours, faster air-mail service will be effected. English mail to Prague will require only seven hours, and to Vienna only an hour more. France will operate a mail line to South America, with deliveries from London in seven days. —New York Times.

Here and There

Our vanishing wildernesses have for some time elicited the concern of conservationists, but now science is bespeaking our solicitude in behalf of some of the glaciers which bid fair to disappear within a few decades, if scorching summers succeeded by mild winters become the rule.
Dr. Francois E. Matthes, of the United States Geological Survey, fears that within another 30 years Glacier National Park, Montana, may be minus its glaciers.
Mount Rainier National Park,
Washington, also has suffered from heat prostration. At no time within the memory of living persons has the recession of the ice rivers in these areas been so rapid as during the long-protracted heat wave of 1934. During normal winters snowfall and frigidities are wont to replace to a large degree the melting snows of summer.
